Boating URUNGA...and surrounds

DISCOVER THE STUNNING WATERWAYS OF THE URUNGA~MYLESTOM AREA!

Urunga lies where the Bellinger and Kalang Rivers meet, before entering the Pacific Ocean. Located on the Pacific Highway just north of Nambucca Heads and south of Coffs Harbour, the town is well known for its Boardwalk across the Urunga Lagoon to the mouth of the river and unspoilt beaches.

The Bellinger and Kalang Rivers are a boating paradise. Launch your boat from one of the many boat ramps and travel upstream to Bellingen or explore the estuary and creeks in the local area. The waterways are ideal for canoeing and kayaking, as well as being a popular fishing and surfing spot. Bellingen Canoe Adventures can organise canoes to hire, with drop off and pick up options, should you decide to paddle to Bellingen, Raleigh Winery, Mylestom or Urunga.

Fishing is one of the main pastimes here. Both the Bellinger and Kalang rivers have been declared recreational fishing havens, and offer a unique opportunity for visiting anglers. In the more temperate waters, anglers can fish for the much-prized Australian bass (perch) and freshwater mullet, while towards the saltwater influence and the mouth there's excellent estuary fishing for whiting, bream and flathead. In the tidal reaches of both rivers, anglers can expect to tangle with mangrove jack, bream, whiting, luderick, jewfish and tailor. To the north and south of the estuary exit point there is renowned rock and beach fishing. Rock platforms at Wenonah, Hungry and Bundagen Heads, and Tuckers Rock, produce drummer, tailor, jewfish and bream. Drift fishing the estuary in small boats is a popular pastime with locals and 'deadly' on flathead.

Points of Interest

1 Historic Pilots House

The first Bellinger river pilot Thomas Stewart arrived in 1868. The pilot's role was to safely navigate vessels through the treacherous Bellinger Heads river entrance. The Pilot's House ceased operation in 1933 when the steam railway was introduced to the mid-north coast.

2 The Drogher Remains

Remains of a paddle wheel driven, steam powered vessel which carried logs down the Bellinger River during the cedar getting hey-day of the late 1800s.

3 Old Marshall's Homestead

Site of pioneer family's homestead, located on Marshall's Island.

4 Dredge Pipes

In the past, when commercial traffic was using the Bellinger and Kalang Rivers, the navigation channels were kept clear by a government provided dredge. Some of the dredge pipes that were used in this activity remain on the river banks.

5 Dredge Remains

Remains of a vessel that was engaged in the dredging of the river's navigation channels. Dredging ceased in the 1930s.
